Dear Alan:

Thank you very much for submitting a cost quotation for the BUCKS national sampling program. Your capabilities in this area appear to only be matched by the expedience of your quotation to me. We regret that it has taken this long to reply, however the program is very complicated and it's development requires diligent supervision.

Unfortunately, the estimate which you submitted did not fall within our budget parameters, and we have selected an alternative supplier.

Once again, thank you for your prompt reply. We look forward to working with you on other projects.

Sincerely,

Paul Degener
